

Look into my Eyes!

A day of sharing by, for and with Parents

Supporting shared attention and regulation, engagement and back and forth interaction with the child.

Parent Presentations: with a focus upon Supportive Experiences, Strategies, Activities & Positive Supportive Parental Networking

“Playful Interactions – with a focus on sensory-motor activities” Suzanne Bradley, Paediatric Occupational Therapist.

“Managing & Supporting behaviours that challenge” Child Behaviour Specialist

“Person to person activities and toys which support Engagement and Purposeful communication in support of meaningful communication and relationship.” Mari Caulfield, Speech and Language Therapist.

The goal of the day is to celebrate the young child’s relationships and to explore together how we can as parents encourage development and real connection through shared attention and regulation, engagement, purposeful communication and social problem solving opportunities with our children.
